

This short guide will walk you through what to expect when you first log in to your online banking account.

For first time log in you will be using your account number as your ID.

After typing in your account number and clicking Login you will be taken to a password screen, enter your current Online Banking password.

Once you type in your password you will be taken to our new Online Agreement. You may either read this here or print it. Either way you must check “I Agree” before you will be able to choose “Accept.”

You will now get to pick your new Username. We are no longer using your account number as your login ID. When you click in the ID section you will be given a list of rules for the Username. Please note you cannot have the same username as anyone else in the system! Also you CAN change this once you are logged in.
